

Vocation Awareness Committee

When young people begin to think of their future, who offers them guidance? With so many honorable and worthwhile “vocations” from which to choose, how to decide which are suitable and which are desirable?

In addition to medicine, law, and so many other ways of life open before them, does anyone recommend that they at least consider priesthood or religious life as a sister or brother? Who is supposed to make such a recommendation anyway?

The Diocese of Shreveport has asked each Catholic Parish to have a Vocation Awareness Committee. Committee members take as their first responsibility, prayer for all who are searching for their vocation in life.

Please join us in daily prayer that those who need to choose will do so prayerfully and wisely. Encourage them to consider all options including priesthood and religious life as a brother or sister.

The life of a priest or religious brother or sister is never a waste. Those who choose this way of life do not “give up something.” They gain something instead: they gain God Himself!
